An effort will probably be made within the next day or two to have the final hearing on the injunction set for an earlier day than Nov. 18.

If the restraining order handed down by Judge Kellar is thoroughtly enforced it will permit the mines to be operated without interference.

The Chesapeake and Ohio Coal Agency

Company represented in its bill of com-plaint that it was engaged in selling coal and coke and has contracts with the collieries named as party defendants for the pur-chase of their product, and that it resold the same to various large corporations and to the United States Government for use in the navy. It represented that by reason of an alleged unlawful combination which John Mitchell, Secretary W. B. son, J. W. Carroll, J. Richards and about 150 members of the union were interested. had been prevented from storing its istomary supplies of coal. It prayed customary supplies of coal. It prayed that the miners be prohibited from interfering in any manner with the operation

STRIKER TRIES TO KILL.

ATTEMPT TO MURDER A GAS WORKER WHO WOULD WORK.

N's Joe Mocaff's Second Arrest for Using a Pistel as a Strike Argument - This Time He Didn't Hit Man, but Came Near Killing a Woman in Her Own House

Joseph McGiff, fron worker, 20 years old, of 406 East 117th street, was looked up in the East 104th street police station last night, charged with trying to shoot Joseph Solonick of 309 East 109th street.

Both men have been employed by the Consolidated Gas Company. Some of the coal shovelers at the gas company's plant Ninety-ninth street and Second avenue went on strike a few days ago, McGiff being among them.

Since then McGiff has been active in trying to prevent men from working. He was arrested a week ago for firing a revolver at one of the men hired to take the strikers' places, but was let go.

Last night as Solonick was going home he met McGiff in East 140th street, and McOiff tried to induce him to stay away from work to-day. no reason why he should give up his job, because others were dissatisfied with the way the company conducted its affairs. He told McGiff to go on about his business. McGiff then drew a revolver from pocket and, pointing it at Solonick, asked him again if he would stay away from

"No, I won't, and I defy you to shoot, id Solonick. McGiff fired, but his aim was bad. The bullet crashed through one of the windows in the apartments of Mrs. Winifred Ruscind at 309 East 110th street. She was sitting at the window and was cut by falling glass. Policeman Allen caught McGiff after chasing him for three blocks.

TO EVICT STRIKING MINERS. Matters Reaching a Crisis in the West Virginia Field.

CHARLESTON, W. Va., Aug. 1.- The strike situation is rapidly drawing to a head in the Kanawha and New River district. The operators will in a few days begin actions before the courts to put the striking miners out of the houses they occupy to make room for the new men coming in to take their places and when this is done, trouble is almost sure to follow.

SUPPRESS POLICY COMPLETELY. Ambition of Capt. Goddard's Society -- He Belleves It Can Be Done.

Plans for the complete suppression of the game of policy in this city are being made by Capt. F. Norton Goddard and his associates in the Anti-Policy Society. This game, which was so generally played in this city up to a year ago, when the law making it a misdemeanor to have policy paraphernalia in one's possession was passed, has been seriously crippled since the raid on Al Adams's headquarters last winter, but nevertheless it has managed to limp along despite the vigilance of the men organized to break it up.

For the first time since he began digging at the roots of this swindling game in this city Capt. Goddard believes that it can be totally suppressed. In the past he and his associates have been well satisfied with crippling it by constant raids; but now they see their way clear to stopping it entirely. Capt. Goddard thinks that a year to year and a half will suffice to drive the las of the policy men out of business and thinks the thing can be accomplished at a total cost of about $7,000. Subscriptions to about half of this amount have been made and active work is to be resumed next month. In less than five years, according to Capt. Goddard, the policy shops in this city have been reduced from 1,200 to 400. Scores of policy men have been sent to fail and a large part of the business has been taken away by literature widely circulated to show the crookedness of the game and the absolute impossibility of beating it. The hardest blow struck has been the driving of intelligent men out of the business. Adams and the Shipsey brothers used to employ some pretty good men to write sheets and take bets, but they can't get this grade of men now when the mere possession of a policy slip is sufficient to send a man to jail. have to take what they can get, and the Anti-Policy Society hears that they have suffered greatly from the depredations of the men whold hands.

It is the plan of Capt. Goddard to get the job cleaned up while a friendly Police Com-missioner, a friendly District Attorney and a friendly Mayor are in office. A half dozen new detectives will be added to the Anti-Policy Society's force next month and raids and arrests will be made just as fast as evi-

Ex-Police Captain and Police Justice Gives Up His Fight for a Living.

Daniel Ferry has closed his real estate office at Court and Harrison streets, Brooklyn, and gone out of business. His recent emoval by order of Surrogate Church as executor of the $200,000 estate of the late Peter Mallon, on the ground of alleged mismanagement, coupled with his ill health.

is the cause of his retirement.

Mr. Ferry was a police captain and in charge of the Butler street precinct twenty-five years ago, when he was induced to live years ago, when he was induced to resign and accept a nomination for Police Justice. He was elected, and, after a single term, went into the real estate business. He always regretted having abandoned his police place for politics before he was entitled to a pension. He is now a poor man and his friends declare that he never profited a dollar through his connection with the Mallon estate.

HILL MEDDLE WITH DEVERY?

STATE INTERFERENCE" IS WHAT THE BIG MAN CALLS IT.

He Hears That Goodwin Has Been Hobnobbing With 'Gene Wood -An Exentsion Among the Proverbs -- Free

Opera -Where He Got His Money. The Hon. William S. Devery, who is after the Tammany leadership of the Ninth Assembly district, was asked yesterday whether it was true that he was after the leadership of Tammany Hall. "Why." he said, "I never thought of that. simply in this fight with the people of this

"Goodwin never did amount to anything as a leader of the district. He's not in it He simply proved himself to be one of those cheap bievele tires which can stand full of wind for a time, but which bust when a heavy man gets out to ride the bike. If the people make me their leader their eyes will be opened and they'll see in a light that they never saw in before. I understand that Goodwin has been over to the Hoffman House hobnobbing with Eugene Wood take that to mean State interference.

When asked whether he meant that Hill was interfering in the district fight, Big Bill said he wasn't mentioning names and did not want to say anything about Hill because he had no time to think of people outside

"But," he added, "I know that Goodwin was over there at the Hoffman House con-ferring with Eugene Wood. It ought to be easy to beat Sheehan and Goodwin both. easy to beat Sheehan and Goodwin both. There is an old proverb which says that in the kingdom of the blind the one-eyed man is king. Now, I've got two good eyes. These men are blind, and they think a blind man's wife needs no clothes, so they don't do a thing for the district. I intend to do everything that is possible for a man to do when I'm made leader by the people. When asked what he thought about the When asked what he thought about the police transfers Devery said flies get into a closed mouth. I will say this much, that the five inspectors who were inspectors under me were all good men. I understand that Churchill has mentioned my name several times But I want to say right here that I've never mentioned his name since I got out of the department. When I was there he was one of the men I tried to have made captain. I was on top of the ladder and I tried to pull him up a rung."

When told that one of the afternoon

papers had printed a story to the effect that his opponents were asking where he got his money, Devery said:

"Well, if I told them fellows, they'd be out grafting. But if they are really anxious to know, why I'll put them right. I'm in a few good things that are paying well and if they have the said of the said o have any coin to invest I'll put them next. I'll let them in on the ground floor and there won't be no hot air elevator t take them to the top, either.

This is the greatest city financially and commercially that ever happened, and any fellow who can save a few dollars from his salary has a chance to invest it to good advented to the control of the con his salary has a chance to invest it to good advantage. And it is a Democratic city and ought to remain Democratic. All that is needed is to keep Tammany from wabbling. A few good spikes driven in the right place will make the old hall as solid as it was in the days of that good old Democrat, Samuel J. Tilden. But to come back here to the Double Fifth avenue district (I mean Tenth avenue) I believe I'm going to win.

"I got two more Sheehan clubs to-day and I suppose there will be more weeping and wailing over that fact. I'm going to give the people up here all that is coming to them. To-day I hired the American to them. To-day I miles to them. To-day I miles to them. Theatre to give theatrical shows until the tree to the court week. The shows will be free to the court week.

Theatre to give theatrical shows there next week. The shows will be free to the people of the district.

"There will be an opera company to produce 'The Chimes of Normandy' and a vaudeville troupe to end up the show. It will be a good show and three performances will be given on Wednesday and three more on Saturday of next week. I can't tall availy what the programme can't tell exactly what the programme will be after that. But I'm going to give the people up here everything they want. Yes, money, too. I'm out now to exercise my money.

There are some people up here who have want to put it in training and if they don't exercise it I'll make 'em train it in the right direction, toward the poor. But I'm not looking for any game of leading Tammany Hall. I'm satisfied to lead the district. I want to put the High Flights out."

When asked the meaning of the new words with which he had enriched the language, Big Bill said "Why a High Flight is a fellow who thinks he is the real thing, but isn't the real thing. He thinks he was, is and will be, but he never was, isn't and won't be Sheehan and Goodwin are High Flights."

COULDN'T SWIM THE CHANNEL. Holbein Gives Up After Covering Thirty Miles in Twelve Hours.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN.
DOVER, Aug. 1.—Holbein, who started from Cape Gris-Nez, in an attempt to swim across the English Channel, gave up at 6 o'clock this morning when eight miles off this place. He had encountered an unexpectedly strong tide, against which was useless to contend. He left the water unaided and feeling fresh. He had been in the water 12 hours and 22 minutes, and covered, at a rough estimate, about thirty miles. He will make another at tempt on Aug. 12. By 11 30 o'clock last night Holbein, who had entered the water about 5:30, was six miles off Calais. The lights on the English shore had been visible for some time and steady progress was made toward them. The tide strengthened, however, and was racing down the Channel by 2 o'clock. Holbeir was carried stoadily back toward Cape Gris-Nez and past that point.

Holbein was covering three miles an hour for the greater part of the time, but his progress toward England up to 5:30 o'clock this morning was only represented by eight miles, although he swam about thirty Holbein was dismayed when the experts on the tug advised him to give up the attempt This he refused to do for some time, but eventually yielded to the inevitable and left the water. When his temperature was taken on board the tug, after leaving the water it was found to be normal

OUR CONTROL OF PARAGUA. Capt. Phillips Appointed Governor-Dispute Over Sultan of Sulu's Concession.

Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN MANILA, Aug. 1. Capt. Phillips of th Tenth Infantry has been appointed Governor of the island of Paragua. This is the island of which the syndicate organized by Prince Poniatowski of San Francisco claims control under a concession from the Sultan of Sulu. The matter has been in dispute for over a year. Prince Poniatowski obtained a concession from the Sultan, under which he was to have the right to develop the rubber, timber, mining and pearl industries of the island for a period of fifty years. The Prince, it was stated at the time the concession was secured. had organized a company with a capital of $10,000,000 for the purpose of developing the resources of the island. The army officers were opposed to recognizing the Sultan's right to grant timber concessions on public lands. The validity of the Sultan's jurisdiction over the island was also involved.

BALDWIN BACK FROM ARCTIC

DIDN'T MAKE HIS DASH FOR THE NORTH POLE.

Conditions Not Favorable, but He Expects to Try Again Next Year-Had Best Equipped Expedition That Ever Started

He Established Some Food Stations Special Cable Despatch to THE SUN. CHRISTIANIA, Aug. 1.- The entire Baldvin-Zeigler polar expedition, which sailed from Vardoe on July 30, 1901, under the command of Evelyn Baldwin of New York, arrived at Honningsvaag, Norway, or its steamer America this morning. The officers are reticent regarding the results of the attempt to reach the North Pole, but it was learned that poor results had been achieved. The only real work accomplished was the establishing of food depots for a future expedition, the making of marine collections and new charts.

All channels through Franz Josef land remained blocked with ice during the autumn of 1901. The field work of the expedition was so heavy that the ponies and dogs were exhausted and sledges destroyed. This, together with the early reaking up of the ice in June, which forced the expedition to ues its reserve supplies, forced Mr. Baldwin to return. Mr. Baldwin says that he sent up a large number of balloons bearing messages and succeeded in making a moving picture of Arctic life. He also found the hut that was used by Nansen and recovered a number of documents that were in it. The America will start for Tromsoe to-night, where she will repair her rudder and propeller frame, which were damaged by the ice on her way home. Mr. Baldwin says that the food supplies left at Camp Ziegler will afford the means for a dash toward the pole in 1903. The Baldwin expedition was the moscompletely equipped one that ever started north. William Zeigler of Brooklyn paid the bills, and there was no limit to the last message from Baldwin while he was at his camp on Alger Island was: "I fully expect to raise the Stars and Stripes at the North Pole on July 4, 1902.

THE SUNDAY SUN TO-MORROW

The WORLD IN ACTION America's Biggest War Game.

Of course everybody knows we are about to have the biggest sham battle in on history. Here are the reasons why the battle is big-for instance, who of us has realized that Newport is to-day the easies: door to an attack on New York? The accounts of the actual sham fighting can hardly be more interesting than is this article. There is a hint, too, in it, that the newspapers may not think it worth their while to pay out thousands of dollars for the privilege of playing in Mr. Moody's
